

Elevator Industry Safety Partners Alliance
Data Committee

October 23, 2023

Dear Employer Representative,

I am writing on behalf of the Elevator Industry Safety Partners (EISP) Alliance, Data Committee, to encourage your organization to share your OSHA 300 Log data with the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH). NIOSH was established under the OSH Act as a research agency focusing on the study of worker safety and health. The information collected will provide non-company specific fatality, injury, illness, and hazard exposure data, when appropriate, to help identify areas of safety and health trends that the Alliance should address and then communicate them to you and your industry. The information will also be helpful for producing training products.

The Data Committee is currently working on developing case studies of incidents, injuries, and fatalities within the conveyance industry that include information about gender, age groups, type of work, tasks being performed, years in the trade, state where accident occurred, and training/education received. Our goal is to publish these results as an Alliance product. We want to assure you once again that no company identifiers will be included in the reports that we publish.

To help the Data Committee identify areas of focus, please submit your OSHA 300 Log data for 2023 to Nhut Van Nguyen, Data Visualization Analyst with NIOSH, at odo2@cdc.gov, by April 30, 2024. This is in line with OSHA's new ITA injury/illness data submission. <https://www.osha.gov/injuryreporting/>. Please sanitize your copy, to NIOSH, by omitting the names of employees, as well as company names. Also, include any additional information, as identified above, to assist in the development of our case studies. If you have any questions about this request for information, please feel free to contact Brian Wood, OSHA Region VII, at wood.brian.l@dol.gov, David Smarte, NAEC, at david@naec.org, Trent Behr, NEII, at tbehr@neii.org, or Kristi Savala, EIWPF, at ksavala@eiwpf.org. Thank you for your commitment to worker safety and health in the conveyance industry.

Sincerely,

EISP Data Committee
